

Introducing: Disc Injectables

Available January 1, 2023

Disc Injectables Market

Minimally invasive treatment of degenerative disc disease and discogenic back pain remains one of the last frontiers of orthopedic medicine. Chronic low back pain affects millions of patients in the United States annually, representing an estimated market opportunity exceeding $50B annually.

Given the significant scope of this market, SmartTRAK is now offering a Disc Injectables solution for customers. Our industry experts are actively monitoring the competitive landscape in this area, which now includes over 25 companies developing novel drug, biologic and medical device solutions for the management of disc degeneration.

Customers that would value this new capability include:

- Orthopedic/Spine Strategics
- Developers of Disc Injectable Technologies
- Pain Management Companies
- Investors/Market Research Analysts

What is included in SmartTRAK's Injectables Market subscription?

This new market will be beneficial to companies participating in disc injectables and those involved in the medical device, drug, and biologic space.

Specifically, a subscription to Disc Injectables will provide coverage and analysis of the market and includes the following and more:

- Real-time, daily news updates
(PR, clinical, regulatory, reimbursement, patents)
- Historical News Archive
- Market Overview
- Market Sizing
- Competitor Analysis
- Technology Analysis
- Company/Product profiles
- Direct Access to SmartTRAK analysts

Experts at Your Fingertips

Your SmartTRAK subscription enables you to have Direct Access to a SmartTRAK Industry Expert when you need it. Our insights platform is fueled by the best and the brightest all having worked for leading players in the industry in roles such as Product Management, Market Research, Business Development and more!

Want to learn more or request a demo?

Visit www.SmartTRAK.com/disc

